2018 OhioMBE Award Winner Michael Lille produces Black History Month themes for Samsung

First let me begin by thanking Ronda Watson Barber for the OhioMBE Award. Now I finally feel like I have done something to live up to the Award I was given on October 25, 2018-Michael Lille

I noticed that there was no Black History Month Collection when my business became a theme app partner with Samsung in 2016," said Lille. "It did not take long for me to realize that I had to be the change that I wanted to see. My goal of establishing a Black History Month Collection with Samsung was a two-year project that became a reality this week. I just want to thank Samsung for showing that Black History Month matters."

To get these apps on your Samsung. Tap your screen and hold your finger on your screen for two seconds. You will see a window appear with wallpapers and

Revamp Ohio's certification programs

By Ronda Watson Barber OhioMBE Publisher

Ohio's Inspector General released a report this week outlining that hundreds of EDGE (Encouraging Diversity Growth and Equity) certified didn't qualify for the program because the State of Ohio failed to keep tabs on their eligibility.

The report found that 357 business certified as EDGE businesses have violated the program's 10-year participation time limit. Additionally, the report highlighted CTL Engineering. CTL Engineering claimed to be an economically disadvantaged business then though the company billed over $35.5 million in 2016. CTL is an Asian Indian firm.

The report recommended that the Ohio Department of Administrative Services' Equal Opportunity Division, which runs the EDGE program, revise its policies to make sure companies participating in the program are still eligible. It also said state officials should "strongly consider" a review of staffing levels, the program's budget, and system upgrades to help boost enforcement.

I think Ohio's certification programs need to be revamped. Presently, African-American, Native Americans, Hispanics, and Asians are considered minority groups. Asian includes All persons having origins in any of the original people of the Far East, including China, Japan, and Southeast Asia. India has been included in the definition of "Asian." Subsequent to that, Pakistan was included because the country came about as a division from India.

Asian Indian business owners lobbied to be considered minorities during the Celeste administration. Why are they in the program? What discrimination have business owners from India faced? Most are of means. They are simply benefitting from the struggles Black businesses have faced. The median household income for Ohio's Asian population is $71,820 There are more than 21,000 Asian American-owned businesses in Ohio, with receipts of $10.8 billion dollars.

With respect to business sectors, professional/scientific/ technical services and health care/social assistance account for 15 percent and 14 percent respectively, of Asian Americanowned firms. These sectors account for 13 and 10 percent of all businesses in Ohio respectively. Eleven percent of all accommodation/food service firms in the state are owned by

Steven A. Hill, Intellectual Property Attorney

Intelligence becomes an asset when some useful order is created out of free-floating brain power – that is, when it is given coherent form (a mailing list, a database, an agenda for a meeting, a description of a process); when it is captured in a way that allows it to be described, shared, and exploited; and when it can be deployed to do something that could not be done if it remained scattered around like so many coins in a gutter. Intellectual capital is packaged useful knowledge.--Thomas A. Stewart, Intellectual Capital,

I design and implement ways to protect intellectual capital, in light of business risk and needs. This includes helping clients to identify and organize information to enhance value. Vehicles for protection include patent, trademark (branding), copyright, trade secret, non-disclosure agreements, employment agreements (for employer or employee), licensing, contracts, and other means and combinations. All of it is designed for particular client circumstances and need.

I was an engineer at Bell Laboratories (The Ohio State University: B.S. Electrical Engineering, M.S. Computer Science) when a patent attorney there encouraged me to consider law school. Engineer/programmer by day, law student by night, and trying to be a good father and husband in between, I eventually graduated from Capital University Law School (J.D.). Over the years I passed several bar examinations, including Ohio ("Attorney"), U. S. Federal District Court ("Attorney"), U.S. Patent and Trademark Office ("Patent Attorney"), and England and Wales ("Solicitor", still on roll although not currently practicing there.)

work as in-house counsel as well as outside counsel. Clients include individuals and companies, largely in the U.S., but also including clients in China, Canada, the United Kingdom, and the British Virgin Islands. The practice focuses on business matters and transactions, with particular emphasis on intellectual property, and using an engineering-based approach. Other business attorneys refer me to their clients, become clients themselves, or ask me to participate in disputes or otherwise resolve intellectual property issues.

Client needs and my own curiosity keep me current and reasonably knowledgeable on a wide range of technologies and topics. Seeing and learning from the creativity of others are personal and professional rewards.

I am privileged to be of assistance to people who are more creative than I.

Asian Americans.

Contrastly, the median household income for Blacks is $32,163. There are over 81,000 African American-owned businesses in Ohio, with receipts of $9.1 billion dollars. Health care/social assistance businesses represent the largest portion of African American-owned firms at 24 percent. Within the African American business community, this sector is two-and-ahalf times larger than the proportion of Ohio businesses taken as a whole. Administrative/support/waste management services make up a significant proportion of firms accounting for more than 11 percent of all African American-owned businesses.

Personally, I contend that only Black, Hispanic and Native America business owners should be in the protected certification class. The first enslaved Africans arrived in Virginia 400 years ago. Black folks in America have lived through slavery, Reconstruction, Jim Crow, and the Civil Rights Movement. The playing field is still not equal. Racism and discrimination still exist for Black people.

State officials have a lot of cleaning up to do. They also need to revisit the goals and purpose of the EDGE program. Only business owners that faced true every day 365 discrimination should be eligible to participate.
